

If You Build It He Will Come

You know what they say - that when humanity has gone to hell in a hand basket, that's when great teachers like the Christ come into the world to "save us".

"They" (whoever "they" are) toss around words like lawlessness, in conjunction with the hand basket to hell. This word defines your basic free-for-all and you can usually over-hear lawless types saying to each other, "what laws?". Lawlessness doesn't really need much explanation because everyone knows what the laws are - since kindergarten, we know what the laws are - however some people claim they were "absent" those days in class, or they "didn't inhale" or they have ADHD or PTSD or COPD or ABCD or what have you. But we know..... and they know.....

I like the word licentiousness and I think it has a deserving place in the hand basket. It basically means "F off, I'm gonna do what I want", and it skateboards through our neighborhoods, our main streets, and the corridors of our White House.

Debauchery has a nice ring to it and it certainly has a place in the hand basket. I think the list of programs on my TV screen that I can choose to watch right this minute (I kid you not!) will give you the gist of what debauchery means:

- How to Get Away with Murder
- All Rough Threeway Sex
- Asian Sex Dolls Used by Men
- 10 Horniest Cheerleaders
- Naughty Amateurs All For You
- Busty Young MILFs

Rapaciousness sounds like something out of Jurassic Park, and it might as well be, for all the good it does our society. If you were a rapacious person, you would be a greedy little plunderer, with an "I'm all right Jack, and I could care less what you need" attitude. Yeah, stick that one in the hand basket.

And while we're at it, why don't we put calumny in there as well. This is a deceptively nummy/yummy sounding word, which describes the s.o.b. who posted all those malicious rumors about you on Twitter and bullied you on Facebook. Ok, the hand basket it is. You get my drift.

I don't mind saying that I think we have built a mighty fine opportunity that begs some "help from above"! When I listen to the news or see endless dreadful headlines scrolling by daily on Facebook, I just want to go hide under the bed and wait till it's over. But the world seems to be in such need that I have chosen to forego the company of the under-bed dust bunnies and take pen to paper (or fingers to keyboard, as the case may be) in an effort to make some sense out of it all.

Here is another list of words to consider:

Shame: This is an excerpt from one of Maitreya's* messages (#11), given on January 5th, 1978. "Throughout the world, there are men, women and little children who have not the essentials to stay alive; they crowd the cities of many of the poorest countries in the world. This crime fills me with shame, My brothers, how can you watch these people die before your eyes and call yourselves men? My plan is to save these, My little ones, from certain starvation and needless death.”

Catastrophe: Excerpt from Maitreya’s* message (#12), January 10th, 1978.

“Man’s problem today, as always, is of his own making; it is not inherent in the Plan of God. By the misuse of his divine freewill, man has placed his future, and that of all the kingdoms, in jeopardy, Many today are beginning to realize this and are taking such steps as they can to avert catastrophe. This is good, but not all men see the danger which faces mankind in increasing potency.”

Plunge: From Maitreya’s* message (#13), January 19th, 1978.

“...mankind has lost its way, has strayed far from the path prepared for it by God. Many there are now in the world who know this, who search and pray, and work towards the light; but many more are blind and would rush towards disaster. My plan is to halt this headlong plunge and to turn the tide.”

It’s easy to surmise that when these messages were given over forty years ago, we were in pretty deep caca. And it’s also easy to surmise that we are in even deeper caca now. Maitreya gave 140 Messages over a three year period and they were full of dire warnings about our downward spiral, but also full of tremendous hope and promise for the future.

So, before I send all of you under your bed for cover, there IS good news! And there is HOPE! The good news is the muck is rising to the surface. The corrupt politicians, the supremely rich and greedy people, the pedophile priests, the lying and cheating “good guys”, the abusers and racists, etc. - they are all pretty much lining up naked on the street now. Poor people. But they have had their fun (some are still having it!) and they are being called home.

Thanks to the masses that are finally taking to the streets and letting everyone know how pissed off they are, we are making some serious headway that will usher in the new time. What new time is this, you ask? It is actually the Age of Aquarius. That is a subject for a whole ‘nother article, but, in a soundbite, it is the incoming 2000 year cycle that will be colored by the Aquarian energies of “synthesis” and “brotherhood”, whereas the outgoing 2000 year cycle has been colored by the Picean energies of “individuality” and “single-minded devotion”. What is the difference? Well, you could say an Aquarian-minded individual would probably say, “come join my group and let’s work together”, whereas the Piscean-minded individual is more likely to say, “we have all the answers and you don’t belong in our group”. The tricky part is that these opposing energies are currently overlapping, hence the conflict that seems to be chasing everyone down the street these days.

The good news - no, the FABULOUS NEWS, is that we have help at hand to deal with this mess that we have made of our lives. We have the Christ, Maitreya (the World Teacher) standing in the wings, waiting for the right moment to come forward and declare Himself to our wayward and hungry world, and He comes with a bevy of his advanced disciples (members of our Spiritual Hierarchy). They have their fingers on our pulse, and see all around..... we can count on them to guide us through this maze of difficulty that is, in essence, the birth pains of a new civilization based on a sharing economy where everyone, around the globe, will have all they need to live and grow into productive and creative human beings! Amen to that!!

* See OMG Series: Article #1 “OMG!”